Instructor Remarks

Strengths

Your practical SQL skills are absolutely brilliant. You have a very strong grasp of writing actual SQL queries. Creating tables, altering data types, using aggregations (GROUP BY), and cloning tables were executed flawlessly.

Areas for Improvement

Your theoretical definitions need a quick brush-up. Spend 10-15 minutes reviewing:

- The exact difference between DELETE (removes rows based on conditions), TRUNCATE (removes all rows fast but keeps structure), and DROP (deletes the whole table and structure).
- The difference between WHERE (filters rows before grouping) and HAVING (filters groups after grouping).

Final Verdict

Excellent work! You are clearly ready to move on to more advanced SQL topics like JOINS, Subqueries, and Window Functions. Keep up the great practice!
